MOVE YOUR DREAMS

A INQUISITIVE & MOTIVATIONAL SHOW THAT ASKS: "WHAT'S YOUR DREAM?"

Through the eyes of many lives, DiANNA DAVID delivers a one-woman show with up to 5 characters fused with multi-media, translated voice overs depending on the country, multi-disciplinary performance art storytelling with the sensational experience of the motivation to succeed in anything you do.

Audiences are led through the internal questions all humans commonly feel when they move through life. Do I stay or do I go? Am I worthy of this dream? If you can do it, can I do it too? What do they have that I think I don't have yet? Why am I here? How can I include myself when I don't know what I contribute?

We are all figuring out life together. We need all the ways people see the world in order to create our world and the new world!

If you can have it any all, what dream could you dream for us all?

When you achieve that....that becomes the world we all get to live in!

TALK IT OUT

OVERCOMING OBSTACLES

EVERY MOUNTAIN IS A GIFT TO SEE INFINITE HORIZONS THEREAFTER

Every obstacle we hurdle delivers us virtues we would never unlock unless we face it.

The high and low valleys of our internal journey becomes the stories we get to share. The reliving of telling the story comes to life when the virtues of experience shine through your eyes.

We will never know until we choose to rise!

SESSION A

CORPORATE SESSIONS

NEW LEADERSHIP/TEAM LEAD OR LAUNCHING NEW PRODUCT OR SERVICE?

This session lead by Dianna David will allow your staff and employee to rally behind the cause. Crucial business pivot points and transitions in any business are highly important and need to be properly communicated and launched.

In working with Dianna David, you can rest assured that through an initial business overview and a review of how you've arrived at this business inflection, Dianna David in working with her team will be able to harness important psychological human factors from your employees and remove any doubts, inhibitions or negativity thereby paving the way to greater outcomes of success.

Through role play and activities that draw out the best out of your dynamic workforce, you'll find that employee purpose and productivity increases by approximately 30%. Most of our clients, have seen a sales ROI of 2X or double within three quarters of business.

Dianna David doesn't stop at that because she'll also leave your company employees wanting more and delivers via new future engagements and best practices on how to sustain this productivity and purpose change.

SESSION B

CORPORATE SESSIONS

DEALING WITH CHANGE & HOW TO GALVANIZE YOUR EMPLOYEES

Ever been faced with challenging business situations such as; Business Downturn, Layoffs, Company Acquisition, Increased Competition, Economic Slowdown and others. If this or any other crucial fork in the road has presented itself in your business world, this is a unique ability Dianna David has been able to master and address with tact, poise and highest of emotional intelligence.

Business is often compared to going into battle even down to its fierce competition strategies. With this analogy in mind, your employees are the front lines and the generals that make decisions. They need reinforcements and sometimes they need an external messenger to rally the troops. Ever wonder how why sport coaches all huddle and deliver pre and post game talks to their teams?

Dianna David is able to translate your business challenges and distill them to their essence. She has found that once everyone understands the core issues and sentimentalities that people are facing, groups and organizations begin to function as one well oiled machine.

In this interactive, small or large group activity setting, the transformation journey Dianna David will lead allows your typically analytical minded business personnel to achieve more internal balance thereby encouraging the group or teams to get on a supportive focused mindset moving forward.

SESSION C

CORPORATE SESSIONS

EMPLOYEE MORALE & WORKING COHESIVELY IN MULTI-GENERATIONAL WORKPLACES

Is employee morale suffering, have you been taxing additional workload and responsibilities and killing that work life balance that HR has been promising?

Unfortunately, this is more common than you think. Striking a balance between amazing work culture and productivity is one of the elusive business desirables.

In addition to this fleeting business characteristic is perhaps an even larger challenge, which is one of multi-generational workplaces. Like living in one home with the grandkids, in-laws and trying to make everything work, there's bound to be some communication and expectation problems.

Dianna David has found pathways into working with each generation and the norms and beliefs that have shaped each one. For example, as we've heard the Millennials can generally be impatient and whereas the Babyboomers have more patience and what they typically learnt in a role over a few years, Millennials tend to believe they can learn it a lot quicker.

Managing these challenging dynamics under one roof can be tough and Dianna David is able to provide new tools and ways to express enhanced communication and clear expectations from the onset. In addition, this ultra useful session has been shown to decrease employee attrition and build longer tenure by approximately 55%.

This translates to less time spent retraining new staff or searching for new candidates and more time building purpose and promoting from within to build a culture of succession and success!

WHAT IS THE HUMAN BEHIND YOU AND ME?

This is DIANNA DAVID's underlying quest to discover what's behind any skin, platform, face or race.
